ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

COURT OF APPEAL.

IN THE MATTER OF THE "CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTIONS DETERMINATION ACT," AND IN THE MATTER OF THE "VANCOUVER INCORPORATION ACT, 1921," AND AMENDMENTS THERETO.

REASONS FOR OPINION OF THE HONOURABLE THE CHIEF JUSTICE.

The Lieutenant-Governor in Council, pursuant to the provisions of the "Constitutional Questions Determination Act," has referred the following question to this Court, namely:—

"Has the City of Vancouver power under the 'Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1921,' and amendments thereto, to pass a by-law prohibiting persons from selling unpasteurized milk in the city?"

By section 163, subsection (110), of the "Vancouver Incorporation Act," the Council of the City of Vancouver is vested with power to pass a by-law ". . . for licensing, regulating, and controlling all persons selling or dealing in . . . milk or cream by retail . . ."

In my opinion this section, standing alone, would empower the Council to pass a by-law prohibiting the sale for human consumption of any unpasteurized milk within the City of Vancouver.

It so happens, however, that the "Milk Act" (R.S.B.C. 1936, chap. 173) contains the following provision:—

Section 10, subsec. (1):

"The Council of each municipality is authorized to pass by-laws for regulating the supplying of milk for human consumption within the municipality, and such by-laws may make provision:—

"(h.) For prohibiting, except in the case of milk obtained from a dairy-farm classed as Grade A pursuant to certificate under subsection (2) of section 7, the delivery or sale of milk unless the milk is pasteurized within the meaning of subsection (1) of section 17."

By subsection (2) of section 7 of that Act it is provided:—

Section 7, subsec. (2):

"Where the Inspector allots to the dairy-farmer not less than eighty per centum of the total marks obtainable under the prescribed method, the Inspector shall give to the dairy-farmer a certificate showing that the dairy-farm is classed as Grade A under this Act, and stating that the dairy-farmer may supply milk obtained from that dairy-farm for human consumption without previous pasteurization thereof."

The question then arises whether the provisions of the "Milk Act," above referred to, have by necessary implication repealed the power conferred upon the City by subsection (110) of section 163 of the "Vancouver Incorporation Act" to prohibit the sale within the City of all unpasteurized milk, by reason of an inconsistency or repugnancy between the relevant provisions of the two statutes; or whether the relevant provisions of the "Milk Act" and the City Charter are complementary and can stand together.

In my view these two statutes can stand together and are complementary, with this one qualification: the "Milk Act" in my opinion sets a minimum standard of general application and the Council can not pass a by-law permitting the sale of milk within the City of a standard inferior to that fixed by the "Milk Act." The City Council can however, in my opinion, set a higher standard of milk purification than that defined by the "Milk Act" in relation to milk sold for human consumption within the City of Vancouver.

It seems to me therefore that a residuum of power remains in the City Council under subsection (110) to pass a by-law prohibiting the sale within the City of unpasteurized Grade A milk. In so doing it is imposing a higher standard of purification than the minimum fixed by the "Milk Act."

To hold that the relevant provisions of the "Milk Act" have abrogated the powers conferred on the Vancouver City Council by subsection (110) would mean that the City of Vancouver would be the only municipality in the Province without authority to prohibit the sale of unpasteurized Grade A milk.

All other municipalities now have that power (subject to a plebiscite), notwithstanding the provisions of the "Milk Act." The provisions of the "Municipal Act" do not, however, apply to the City of Vancouver by the terms of its Charter.

It does not seem reasonable to me therefore to assume that the Legislature, in enacting the "Milk Act" by necessary intendment repealed by implication subsection (110) of the "Vancouver Incorporation Act," except to the extent I have indicated.

I would, in consequence, answer the question submitted in the affirmative, subject to the qualification hereinbefore expressed.

GORDON MCG. SLOAN, C.J.B.C.

Vancouver, B.C., 23rd, November, 1945.

REASONS FOR OPINION OF THE HONOURABLE MR. JUSTICE O'HALLORAN.

I hereby certify that my reasons for answering the question submitted in the negative are contained in the opinion of my brother Bird, with whom I concur.

C. H. O'HALLORAN, J.A.

Vancouver, B.C., 30th November, 1945.

REASONS FOR OPINION OF THE HONOURABLE MR. JUSTICE ROBERTSON.

I hereby certify that I have answered the question submitted in the negative for the reasons which are contained in Mr. Justice Bird's opinion, with which I concur.

HAROLD B. ROBERTSON, J.A.

Vancouver, B.C., 30th November, 1945.

REASONS FOR OPINION OF THE HONOURABLE MR. JUSTICE
SIDNEY SMITH.

I have had the advantage of reading the judgment of my brother Bird and find myself, respectfully, in substantial agreement with what he says. In view of the importance of the topic, however, I think it desirable to state more precisely my own views.

The question which requires decision is this:—

“Has the City of Vancouver power under the ‘Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1921,’ and amendments thereto, to pass a by-law prohibiting persons from selling unpasteurized milk in the city.”

It should first be noted that the Council of the City of Vancouver has power under sec. 163, subsec. (110), of the “Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1921,” to pass by-laws—

“For licensing, regulating, and controlling or prohibiting all persons selling or dealing in fish, fruit, milk, or cream by retail, and for inspecting the premises in which the same are offered for sale and the said articles or produce so offered for sale.”

The language used here is not that of formality. The words are simple, are of the widest import, and are apt to empower the Council, acting in the bona-fide discharge of its functions and with a single view to the public interest, to pass a by-law prohibiting the sale of unpasteurized milk. I find nothing in the Incorporation Act to narrow this power. If the matter stood thus, therefore, the answer must, in my opinion, be in the affirmative.

But the dispute arises in consequence of the “Milk Act,” the provisions of which were first set on foot in 1913 and re-enacted more elaborately in 1926–27. It is therefore with the “Milk Act, 1926–27,” and amendments to date, that we are concerned. The relevant provisions are to be found in sec. 10 (as amended in 1928), and are as follows:—

Section 10, subsec. (1):

“The Council of each municipality is authorized to pass by-laws for regulating the supplying of milk for human consumption within the municipality, and such by-laws may make provision:—

“(h.) For prohibiting, except in the case of milk obtained from a dairy-farm classed as Grade A pursuant to certificate under subsection (2) of section 7, the delivery or sale of milk unless the milk is pasteurized within the meaning of subsection (1) of section 17.”

It is important to observe that under these provisions municipalities (which by sec. 24 (28) of the “Interpretation Act” include the City of Vancouver) may prohibit the sale of unpasteurized milk except such milk as may come from a Grade A dairy. It follows that the short effect of the foregoing quotations from the Incorporation Act and the “Milk Act” is that under the former Act the City Council has power to prohibit the sale of all unpasteurized milk, while under the latter Act it has no power to prohibit the sale of unpasteurized milk from a Grade A dairy. There is here a clear repugnancy. The question at issue is as to which provision is to prevail within the City of Vancouver.

Counsel for the City first contends that some elucidation may be obtained from a consideration of the history of the “Milk Act”; and directs our attention to sec. 12 of the 1913 Act, reading as follows:

“12. This Act, except in so far as it may be repugnant to or inconsistent with any of the provisions of the ‘Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1900,’ and amending Acts, shall apply to and be in force in the City of Vancouver.”

This section does not appear in the 1926–27 Act and I agree that this is some indication that the Legislature intended the provisions of the 1926–27 Act with amendments to have effect within the City of Vancouver.

Both Counsel sought some legal principle to elucidate their respective positions and both prayed in aid the common-law maxim to the effect that general legislation is not to be construed so as to derogate from special legislation. But they applied this maxim very differently. Counsel for the milk-dealers forcefully argued that the Incorporation Act must be taken as special legislation in that it applied to a specific area, viz., the City of Vancouver; while the “Milk Act” must be regarded as general legislation, applying to the Province at large; and that accordingly the powers of the City must prevail. He quoted in support Garnett v. Bradley (1879), 48 L.J.Q.B. 186, and a number of other authorities. These undoubtedly support his submission, although they also contain observations indicating that this is not a rule of general application; but that the question of what is, and what is not, special legislation (as opposed to general legislation) is itself a matter of construction of the various statutes in the light of all the circumstances.

In the case before us the submission so advanced can not, in my judgment, be sustained. The principle here is capable of a construction at once simpler and more reasonable. I think there can be no doubt that in 1926–27 the Legislature intended to deal specifically with milk, the pasteurization thereof, the sale thereof, and other kindred matters; and that this legislation, being special as to its subject-matter, must prevail over the powers in the Incorporation Act to prohibit the sale of milk, which are essentially of a wide and general nature.

Authority is not lacking for this aspect of the principle. It may be found in Hals. 2nd ed., Vol. 31, p. 526, expressed thus:

"A statute passed for a particular purpose must so far as that purpose extends override general enactments."

It is also expressed by Lord Hobhouse in Barker v. Edgar (1898), A.C. 748, as follows:—

"When the Legislature has given its attention to a separate subject, and made provision for it, the presumption is that a subsequent general enactment is not intended to interfere with the special provision unless it manifests that intention very clearly. Each enactment must be construed in that respect according to its own subject-matter and its own terms."

In Canada in Re Township of York and Township of North York (1925), 57 O.L.R. 644, at p. 648, Mr. Justice Riddell states his view in this way:—

"It is, of course, elementary that special legislation overrides general legislation in case of a conflict—the general maxim is generalia specialibus non derogant—see Lancashire Asylums Board v. Manchester Corporation (1900), 1 Q.B. 458, at p. 470 per Smith, L.J.—even where the general legislation is subsequent; Barker v. Edgar (1898), A.C. 748, at p. 754, in the Judicial Committee. The reason is that the Legislature has given attention to the particular subject and made provision for it, and the presumption is that such provision is not to be interfered with by general legislation intended for a wide range of objects: Craies on Statute Law, 3rd ed. p. 317."

Applying this view of the principle, which I take to be well established, I am of opinion that any by-law of the City Council prohibiting the sale of milk which is repugnant to the aforesaid provisions of the "Milk Act" is invalid to the extent of such repugnancy. I think further, however, that if the by-law is not so in conflict it is a good by-law. This point may be academic, because the City Council has the appropriate power to pass any such by-law under the powers given to it by the "Milk Act." Nevertheless, I prefer to state the position as I have done; because it is, I think, undesirable that the powers of the City Council should be thought to be reduced more than is necessarily and clearly intended by the legislation under consideration.

It also follows from this that while the question asked must be answered "No"; nevertheless a more comprehensive answer would be "No, unless the by-law in question is in conformity with the power to pass by-laws conferred by sec. 10 of the 'Milk Act.'"

SIDNEY SMITH, J.A.

Vancouver, B.C., 30th November, 1945.

REASONS FOR OPINION OF THE HONOURABLE MR. JUSTICE BIRD.

This Court has been required, pursuant to the "Constitutional Questions Determination Act," R.S.B.C. 1936, cap. 50, to certify to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council its opinion upon the following question:—

"Has the City of Vancouver power under the 'Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1921,' and amendments thereto to pass a by-law prohibiting persons from selling unpasteurized milk in the city."

The Court was informed by Counsel on the opening of the Reference of communications between Counsel and officials of the Department of the Attorney-General, from which it was made to appear that the Attorney-General did not desire that the Crown should be represented by Counsel.

Counsel for certain milk distributors in the City of Vancouver supports the affirmative side of the question and contends that the City has power to pass such a by-law by virtue of the "Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1921," s. 163, ss. (44), (110), and (111). On the other hand, Counsel for the City of Vancouver takes a contrary position. He submits: (1) That the powers conferred by the sections of the City Act so relied upon are limited to persons, i.e., milk-dealers, and do not extend to authorize the City Council to prohibit the sale of unpasteurized milk, nor to deal in any respect with the question of pasteurization of milk; (2) that even though the City Act could be held to give such power, nevertheless the power so conferred must be taken to have been repealed by implication, by enactment of the "Milk Act, 1926-27," whereby the whole matter of milk control was codified and no provision was made for reservation of the powers conferred by the City Act; (3) that the "Milk Act," being special legislation in respect to its subject-matter, i.e., the regulation and control of milk and the standards thereof for human consumption, must be taken to override the legislation of the City Act, which is general in its terms, relating to regulation and control of persons dealing in a great variety of products, including milk. He would apply the maxim generalia specialibus non derogant.

Counsel for the milk distributors, in reply to No. 3 above, while accepting the principle expressed in that maxim, contends that here the general legislation is that of the "Milk Act" since it has territorial application throughout the Province and the legislation of the City Act being limited in its application to the City of Vancouver is to be considered as special legislation.

Determination of the question requires consideration of the history as well as the provisions of various Acts of the Legislature of the Province of British Columbia, including the "Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1900," and amendments thereto, the revision and consolidation of that Act, which is now cited as the "Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1921," and the amendments thereto (for convenience referred to as the "City Act"), the "Milk Act, 1913," and the "Milk Act, 1926-27," whereby the "Milk Act, 1913," was repealed and re-enacted, and amendments thereto, as well as certain provisions of the "Municipal Act," R.S.B.C. 1936, cap. 199, and amending Acts.

Prior to the enactment of the "Milk Act, 1913," the City of Vancouver, by virtue of the "Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1900," cap. 54, s. 125, ss. (55), (59), (66), and (121), had certain powers for licensing, governing, and regulating persons selling or dealing in milk or cream by retail, and for regulating, governing, and inspecting the keeping and sale of milk and cream. Municipalities had similar, though less extensive, powers by virtue of the "Municipal Act, 1911," cap. 170, s. 53.

Then by the "Milk Act, 1913," the Legislature set up what I would term a code applicable throughout the Province, with the exception hereinafter noted in regard to the City of Vancouver, for the regulation and control of dairy-farms, milk, and milk products. By that Act the existing powers of municipalities relating to milk regulation were expressly repealed and the provisions of the Act substituted therefor. S. 12 thereof reads as follows:—

"12. This Act, except in so far as it may be repugnant to or inconsistent with any of the provisions of the 'Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1900,' and amending Acts, shall apply to and be in force in the City of Vancouver."

The effect of that section, in my opinion, is to preserve all the powers of the City in relation to milk regulation conferred by the "Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1900," and to add to these powers all provisions of the "Milk Act" which are not repugnant to or inconsistent with the Act of 1900.

There followed in 1921, the "Milk Act, 1913," being then in effect, the "Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1921," which was a revision and consolidation of the Act of 1900.

Power is thereby given to the Council by s. 163 to pass by-laws for the following purposes:—

"Public Health."

"(25.) For providing for the health of the city and against the spread of contagious or infectious diseases, and for controlling, restricting, prohibiting, or regulating persons, premises, or conditions in the city, with a view of preventing the spread of infectious diseases.

"Inspection of Foods."

"(44.) For the appointment of inspectors and for the providing for inspection of milk, meat, bread, poultry, cake, ice-cream, candy, fruit, eggs, fish, and other natural products, and all foodstuffs offered for sale in the city; and for regulating, restricting, and controlling the places or premises wherein any such foodstuffs and articles of food are kept, placed, stored, sold or offered for sale.

"Milk and Foodstuffs."

"(110.) For licensing, regulating, and controlling or prohibiting all persons selling or dealing in fish, fruit, milk, or cream by retail, and for inspecting the premises in which the same are offered for sale and the said articles or produce so offered for sale."

Then in 1926 the "Milk Act, 1913," was repealed and re-enacted by the "Milk Act, 1926-27." Under the Act of 1926-27 (hereafter referred to as the "Milk Act") similar though wider provisions to those contained in the 1913 Act, effective throughout the Province, are made for regulating, inspecting, grading, and classification of milk and the sources of milk-supply, as well as for establishing standards of fitness of milk for human consumption. In addition similar, though wider powers, than in the 1913 Act are conferred upon municipalities for regulating by by-law the supply of milk for human consumption within the municipality. "Municipality" is defined under the "Interpretation Act," R.S.B.C. 1936, cap. 1, sec. 24, ss. (28), as follows:—

"24. In every Act of the Legislature, unless the context otherwise requires:—

"(28.) 'Municipality' includes every municipal area or corporation incorporated as a city, city municipality, district municipality, or township municipality by or under any general or special Act of the Legislature. . . ."

And is further defined in the "Milk Act" as including a municipality incorporated under the "Village Municipalities Act." It is to be observed that the "Milk Act, 1926-27," contains no express reference to the City of Vancouver, and further that there is omitted from that Act any such provision as that contained in sec. 12 of the "Milk Act, 1913," before mentioned. Consequently, I think those provisions of the "Milk Act" relating particularly to "municipalities" must be taken as applicable to the City of Vancouver. The general provisions include the following: (1) Secs. 5, 6—inspection and prescribing standards for dairy farms, herds, and premises; (2) Sec. 7 (1)—the grading and classification of dairy farms; (3) Sec. 7 (2) and 7 (3)—for milk standards and the question of pasteurization. Sec. 7 reads in part as follows:—

"7. (2.) Where the Inspector allots . . . eighty per centum of the total marks obtainable . . . the Inspector shall give to the dairy-farmer a certificate showing that the dairy-farm is classed as Grade A under this Act and stating that the dairy-farmer may supply milk obtained from that dairy-farm for human consumption without previous pasteurization.

"7. (3.) Where the Inspector allots to . . . sixty per centum of the total marks obtainable . . . the Inspector shall give to the dairy-farmer a certificate showing that the dairy-farm is classed as Grade B under this Act, and stating that the dairy-farmer may supply milk obtained from that dairy-farm for human consumption, after previous pasteurization thereof."

(4) Under secs. 9 and 14 provisions forbidding the supply of milk from diseased cows and the employment on dairy-farms of diseased persons. (5) Secs. 16 to 19—provisions setting up standards as to butter-fat content, and standards for "certified" and for "pasteurized" milk.

Then by sec. 10 of the Act power is conferred upon municipal councils, which would include the Council of the City of Vancouver, to pass by-laws for regulating milk supplied for human consumption within the municipality, and particularly: (a) As to the care . . . and distribution of milk by vendors, and (h) as to matters regarding care, treatment, transportation, distribution, and sale of milk.

In 1928 the "Milk Act" was amended to add to the powers of a municipality to pass by-laws, the further power following:—

"(i.) For prohibiting, except in the case of milk obtained from a dairy-farm classed as Grade A . . . the delivery or sale of milk unless the milk is pasteurized. . . ."

In 1944, by an amendment to the "Municipal Act," R.S.B.C. 1936, cap. 59, there was added to the powers of municipal councils to pass by-laws the following:—

"(119a.) For prohibiting, notwithstanding the provisions of the 'Milk Act,' the delivery or sale of any milk for use within the municipality unless the milk is pasteurized within the meaning of that Act: Provided that before any by-law is passed hereunder the Council shall submit the question for the opinion of the electors. . . ."

But sec. 326 of the "City Act," as amended in 1945, cap. 83, limits the application to the City of the provisions of the "Municipal Act" to specific sections thereof, of which (119a) of the "Municipal Act" is not one.

Examination of the powers of the City derived from s. 163, subsecs. (25), (44), and (110) of the City Act satisfies me that the power to prohibit "persons selling or dealing in . . . milk" and "to inspect . . . the said articles" is sufficiently wide to authorize the City Council to pass a by-law forbidding the sale within the city of milk which is dangerous to public health and therefore unfit for human consumption.

If that be so it does not necessarily follow, in my opinion, that the powers under the City Act, considered alone, extend to prohibition of the sale of unpasteurized milk within the City, for the exercise of the power involves a determination as to what milk is and what is not dangerous to public health, or otherwise unfit for human consumption. That is to say, either (1) It must be taken as conclusively established that all raw, i.e., unpasteurized, milk is so unfit for human consumption, or (2) Before passing such a by-law the City Council must have determined that fact upon proper or judicial considerations.

There is nothing before us which can be taken as proof of the fact referred to in No. 1 above, nor was any such contention advanced before us. Indeed, Counsel for the City indirectly takes a contrary position, for he submits that the City lacks power to pass such a by-law.

Then if the powers of the City do extend to prohibit the sale of unpasteurized milk within the City, I think that power must include a power in the City Council to make the determination referred to in No. 2 above.

But it is to be observed that the legislation under review contains no reference to "treatment" or to "pasteurization" of milk, nor to any method or test of the fitness of milk for human consumption.

The absence of any such reference or method therefore makes it necessary that the City Council, without any standard of fitness or method of pasteurization having been prescribed by the Act, shall reach a decision that raw milk is unfit for human consumption. Having done so, the Council must then prescribe the manner in which pasteurization shall be performed or carried out.

In these circumstances I entertain considerable doubt whether, upon consideration solely of the provisions of the City Act, power was conferred or was intended to be conferred to prohibit the sale within the City of unpasteurized milk.

However, since for reasons herein expressed, I find it unnecessary to attempt to resolve the doubt, I propose to deal with the question submitted on the assumption that there is such power under the City Act.

What then, upon the basis of that assumption, is the effect upon the powers under the City Act of the enactment of those provisions of the "Milk Act" which relate to milk standards and pasteurization?

Counsel for the milk distributors founds his argument on this phase of the question upon alternative propositions: (1) That the provisions of ss. (110) of the City Act are complementary to those of the "Milk Act" in that the latter legislation prescribes minimum standards. He refers particularly to s. 7 dealing with grading of dairy farms and standards of milk supplied therefrom, and s. 17 dealing with pasteurization of milk. He says that although since the enactment of the "Milk Act" the powers under the City Act are curtailed to the extent of requiring observance of the minimum standards laid down by the "Milk Act," i.e., the "Milk Act" has by implication in part repealed the powers under the said Act, nevertheless there remains in the City a residuum of its powers. He submits therefore that the City, since the enactment of the "Milk Act," has power to pass a by-law which requires pasteurization of all milk, including milk supplied from a Grade A farm, and thereby sets a higher standard than that prescribed in the "Milk Act." (2) Alternatively, if the provisions of the City Act and those of the "Milk Act" are repugnant or inconsistent, then the City Act, being special legislation, and the "Milk Act" general, the former operates within its territorial field and the latter operates outside the territorial field of the special Act.

Considering the first proposition, it appears to me that the intent of the Legislature, as expressed in s. 7 of the "Milk Act," is to prescribe in positive and affirmative terms standards of fitness of milk for human consumption, applicable throughout the Province.

By s. 7, ss. (2) milk from a Grade A farm may be supplied for human consumption without previous pasteurization; and by s. 7 ss. (3) milk from a Grade B farm may be supplied for human consumption, but only after pasteurization in the manner prescribed by s. 17 of the Act.

The effect of the language of these sections, in my opinion, is to declare that milk from a Grade A farm without pasteurization is fit for human consumption; and that milk from a Grade B farm is fit for human consumption only after pasteurization, as prescribed by s. 17 of the "Milk Act."

That the standards so prescribed are positive in their application to municipalities, and that municipalities under the powers conferred by the "Milk Act" have no power to pass by-laws contrary to such standards is, I think, made clearly apparent by the amendment to s. 10 of the "Milk Act," passed in 1928, whereby power is expressly given to municipal councils to prohibit the sale unpasteurized of all milk except milk from a Grade A farm.

It follows, I think, as a necessary inference that raw, i.e., unpasteurized, milk from a Grade A farm is thereby authorized to be sold for human consumption, since no municipality had power to prohibit the sale without pasteurization of milk from a Grade A farm.

After some sixteen years of operation under the "Milk Act" as it stood in 1928, such last-mentioned power was given by the amendment to the "Municipal Act, 1944," but the power is operative only after approval given by the electors of the municipality upon submission to them of the question of pasteurization.

Then, if the true intent of secs. 7 and 17 of the "Milk Act" is to prescribe such standards for municipalities, is a different intention expressed or to be implied in relation to milk supplied within the City of Vancouver?

No expression of such intention is to be found in the statute, nor, in my opinion, can it be implied from the language there used. Indeed, the contrary appears to me to have been expressed, since by the definition of municipality before mentioned, a city incorporated by special Act, i.e., Vancouver, is included in that term, and the provisions of s. 10 of the "Milk Act" are thereby made applicable to Vancouver. With every respect to contrary opinion, I do not find it possible to subscribe to an interpretation of the legislation as fixing minimum standards applicable either generally in the Province or solely within the City of Vancouver.

In my opinion the necessary intendment of the legislation contained in those sections of the "Milk Act," to which I have referred as general provisions, was to prescribe a complete code of standards or tests of fitness of milk for human consumption with and without pasteurization, together with the requirements for pasteurization which were intended to have general application throughout the Province, including the City of Vancouver. Assuming that the sections of the City Act relied upon, do give power to require pasteurization of milk before sale or to forbid the sale of raw, i.e., unpasteurized, milk, I think that those powers are repugnant to and inconsistent with the provisions of the "Milk Act."

In those circumstances, in my opinion, the "Milk Act" must be taken to have repealed by implication such powers, if any, as the Council may have had under the City Act to legislate in respect of pasteurization of milk.

The principles applicable to the question of repeal by implication were exhaustively considered by Chief Railway Commissioner Killam in Grand Trunk Railway Company v. Robertson (1907) S.C.R. 506. On appeal from that decision to the Supreme Court of Canada the appeal was dismissed unanimously, and four of the five Judges approved without reservation the reasons given by the Commissioner, who, at pp. 518 et seq., quoted with approval principles expressed in numerous decisions there cited, as follows: (1) The Court must be satisfied that the two enactments are inconsistent before they can, from the language of the later, imply the repeal of an express prior enactment. (2) If two inconsistent Acts are passed at different times the last is to be obeyed, and if obedience can not be observed without derogating from the first, it is the first which must give way, but a repeal by implication is never to be favoured. (3) The intention to repeal must appear even more strongly where the first provision is contained in a statute of a private or special nature, in which case the maxim generalia specialibus non derogant usually prevails, more particularly if the former be particular and the latter be general.

The Commissioner then goes on to say, at p. 521:—

"But all of these statements admit that if the intention of Parliament to that effect sufficiently appears, the later Act should be construed as repealing or varying the former Act, whether special or general."

In referring then to cases in which the Courts have adopted this latter construction, he says:—

"The decision turned upon the view taken by the Court of particular language or of the scope and intention of the legislation as understood by the Court."

He refers to the language of Willes, J., in Dawe v. Metropolitan Board of Works, 12 C.B.N.S. 161, at pp. 178–9, viz.:—

"In the present case however the rule (generalia specialibus non derogant) cannot apply . . . the powers conferred by the two Acts are substantially, if not strictly, the same. So soon as you find that the legislature is dealing with the same subject-matter in both Acts so far as the later statute derogates from and is inconsistent with the earlier one, you are under the necessity of saying that the legislature did intend in the latter statute to deal with the very case to which the former statute applied."

And again he refers to the words of Chief Baron Pollock in Great Central Gas Consumers' Co. v. Clark, 13 C.B.N.S. 838, as follows:—

"Although that section is not in terms repealed, yet it becomes a clause in a private Act quite inconsistent with a clause in a subsequent public Act."

Then in Barker v. Edgar (1898) 67 L.J.P.C. 115, at 118 (1898 A.C. 748), Lord Hobhouse said:—

"When the legislature has given its attention to a separate subject and made provision for it, the presumption is that a subsequent general enactment is not intended to interfere with the special provision unless it manifests that intention very clearly. Each enactment must be construed in that respect according to its own subject-matter and its own terms."

Since I have reached the conclusion that the two enactments here under consideration are quite inconsistent and repugnant and further that the intention of the Legislature by enactment of the "Milk Act, 1926–27," and amendments, sufficiently appears to prescribe standards of fitness of milk for human consumption and the necessity for pasteurization of milk, I take it that upon application of the principles expressed, the legislation of the City Act, assuming it extends to prohibition of the sale of unpasteurized milk, must be taken to have been repealed by necessary implication.

And this will be so whether the legislation of the City Act is special or general. If it were necessary to determine which of the legislation under review is general and which special (and, in view of the conclusion I have reached, it is not), I would say that the "Milk Act" is special in that the intention of the Legislature was there to deal with a particular subject; and thereby to prescribe a complete code relating to milk supplied for human consumption; whereas the legislation under the City Act is general, having the intent to give powers of a general nature to the City for regulation and control of a variety of foodstuffs, including milk, cf. per Lord Hatherley in Garnett v. Bradley (1879) 48 L.J.Q.B. 186, at 189, who applied the principle laid down in Stradling v. Morgan—1 Plowd. 204, that Acts which are general in words are to be regarded as particular where the intent is particular; and whether an Act is to be regarded as special or general depends upon the intent and meaning of the Legislature.

This Court is now required to express its opinion on a question which I take to be limited to the power of the City of Vancouver derived from the “Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1921,” and amendments thereto, not to power at large nor to power derived under other legislation such as the “Milk Act.”

Therefore, for the reasons before expressed, I would respectfully certify my opinion in the negative on the question submitted.
